Dear Blatch families,

Following yesterday's detailed update this is a quick email to say thank you for your continued support. We know that the change to routines can be challenging for our students and we are working hard to support them to manage this.

Yesterday's mock results assembly for our Year 11 students was a fantastic opportunity for us to be able to celebrate their successful learning habits with them and let them know how proud of them we are. We were also delighted to be able to welcome our Year 11 families to our Family Revision evening to share strategies for supporting our students with their revision. All of the resources from last night's presentation will be sent to Year 11 families separately.

We are very pleased too that sports fixtures have been going ahead this week and that auditions for our KS3 musical will take place next week (students should check their form Google Classrooms for information about this).

Best wishes,

Ms Claydon.
